

The Rattling of the Beans.

I'm thinking of the time, Kate
When sitting by my side,
And picking beans I gazed on thee,
And felt a peacock's pride
In silence leaning over the pan,
And neither spoke a word,
But the rattling of the beans, Kate,
Was all the sound we heard.

The autumn curls hung down, Kate,
And kissed thy fairy cheek;
Thy azure eyes, half filled with tears,
Bespoke a spirit meek,
To be so charmed as I was then,
Had not before occurred—
But the rattling of the beans, Kate,
Was all the sound we heard.

I thought it no wrong, Kate—
So leaning o'er the dish
As you stretched up a bundle of beans,
I watched a nectared kiss!
A sudden shower made blind my eyes,
I neither saw nor stirred—
But the rattling of the beans, Kate,
Was all the sound we heard!

Scissoring.

For LIBERIA.—The ship Ephraim is to sail from Baltimore on the 1st of November for Liberia, under charter of the American Colonization Society. She will take emigrants from Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Virginia, from that society, and also those emigrating from Maryland to Cape Palmas, for the Maryland State Colonization Society—some two hundred. She is the largest vessel sent out for many years, being of some 8,000 bbls capacity.

'Mother this book tells about the 'angry waves of the ocean,' now what makes the ocean get angry?' Because they have been crossed so often, my son.

'John,' said a schoolmaster to an idle boy, 'you will soon be a man, and will have to do business—what do you suppose you will do when you have to write letters, unless you will spell better?' 'Oh, sir,' replied John, 'I shall put easy words in them.'

'That horse of yours,' said a friend of ours to a farmer, 'is very handsome.' 'Yes,' was the drawing reply; 'but he is—as slow as cold molasses.'

VERY CORRECT.—'Please, Mister, give me a bundle of hay?'

'Yes, my son. Sixpenny or shilling bundle?'

'Shilling.'

'Is it for your father?'

'No, I guess 'tain't—that's for the boss. My father don't eat hay!'

NAME THE PAGE.—My lord, I appear before you in the character of an advocate from the city of London. My lord, the city of London herself appears before you as a suppliant for justice. My lord, it is written on the book of Nature.

'What book?' says Lord Ellenborough.

'The book of Nature.'

'Name the page,' says Lord Ellenborough, holding his pen uplifted, as if to note the folio down.

'The city of London' was shut up.

M. De Balzac was lying awake in bed when he saw a man enter his room cautiously and attempt to pick the lock of his writing desk. The rogue was not a little disconcerted at hearing a loud laugh from the occupant of the apartment, whom he supposed asleep. 'Why do you laugh?' asked the thief. 'I am laughing, my good fellow,' said M. De Balzac, 'to think what pains you are taking, and what a risk you run, in hope of finding money by night in a desk where the lawful owner can never find any by day.' The thief 'evacuated Flanders' at once.

'How are you Count?' said a noted wag to a spruce-looking specimen of the genus snob. 'Sir!' exclaimed the indignant swell, 'who are you; and why call me Count?' 'Why, I saw you counting oysters in New York last week, and I supposed you were of royal blood,' said the wag. Snob vanished.

A very loquacious lady once offered to bet her husband fifty dollars that she would not speak a word for a week! 'Done!' said the delighted husband, instantly staking the money, which the lady immediately put in her pocket, observing very gravely, that she would secure it until the wager was decided. 'Why, madam,' cried the husband, 'I've won it already.' 'You have mistaken the time,' said the lady; 'I mean this week after I am buried!'

A friend relates the following good joke on Dr. Egan, of Chicago. The doctor is a great land speculator, as well as a most successful physician. The doctor prescribed some pills for a lady. She asked how they were to be taken. 'A quarter down,' said the doctor, 'and the balance in one or two years.'

One day Henderson the actor met Dr. Johnson in Bolt Court and being introduced to him, the conversation turned on dramatic subjects. Henderson asked the doctor's opinion of Mr. Reed's 'Did' and of its author. 'Sir,' said Johnson, 'I never did the man any injury, yet he would read his tragedy to me.'

The editor of the New London Chronicle has conversed with a gentleman of 100 years old, named James Douglas. He was recently from New Haven, where he challenged another old boy of 102 years to wrestle with him, but he backed out.

On board one of the steamboats there was a very beautiful girl, whose comeliness and grace attracted much attention. When the bell rang for the passengers to pay their money, a stranger asked what it was for, and was told it was the 'bell' for the money. 'No,' said Mr. H., pointing to the girl, 'there is the belle' for the money.'

Did you ever think, when you saw a very little baby dressed up in its very long Sunday clothes, that it was like a sixpence tied in the corner of a pocket handkerchief?

A would-be prophet, down south, said lately, in one of his sermons, that he 'was sent to redeem the world, and all things therein.' Upon hearing this, a native pulled out two five dollar bills on a broken bank, and requested him to fork over the specie for them.

A gentleman playing whist with an intimate friend, who seemed, as far as hands were concerned, to hold the Mohammedan doctrine of ablation in supreme contempt, said to him with a countenance more in sorrow than in anger, 'My good fellow, if dirt were trumps, what a hand you would have!'

Somebody takes a very true and impartial view of things, as follows:

If you would get rich don't deal in pass books. Credit is the tempter in a new shape. Buy dry goods on trust, and you will purchase a thousand articles that cash would never have dreamed of. A dollar in the hand looks larger than ten dollars seen through the perspective of a sixty day due bill. Cash is practical, while credit takes horribly to taste and romance. Let cash buy a dinner, and you will have a beef-steak flanked with onions. Send credit to market, and he will return with eight pair of woodcock and a peck of mushrooms. Credit believes in double-breasted pins, and champagne suppers. Cash is more easily satisfied. Give him three meals a day, and he don't care much if two of them are made up of roasted potatoes and a little dirty suit. Cash is a good adviser, while credit is the best fellow to be on visiting terms with. If you want double chins and contentment, do business with cash.

FATAL RECONTR.—A reconre occurred in Owensboro on Wednesday, the 18th inst., between Timothy Burgess, tavern-keeper, of that place, and Daniel Murphy an old citizen of the town. It originated about an account owing to Burgess by Murphy. During the altercation Burgess drew a pistol and discharged it against the left breast of Murphy, who staggered and fell. The Ball lodged in the back, and Murphy has since died, leaving a large family to lament his loss. The assassin left the place instantly, and was heavily armed for resistance.

PROSPECTUS OF ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

NEAR LEBANON, MARION CO., KY.

THIS Literary Institution, founded in 1851, by the late Rev. WILLIAM BARNES, and subsequently conducted for many years by the Jesuits, is now under the superintendence of the Right Rev. Bishop of Louisville, who will always take means to provide a suitable Faculty for carrying it on with a view to promote the greatest public good. Under the auspices of its previous conductors, the Institution has been instrumental in widely diffusing the blessings of a religious education throughout Kentucky and the adjoining States.—The steadiness of its patronage has been a constant evidence of the public approval. The beauty and salubrity of the situation, as well as the spaciousness and commodiousness of the College Buildings, are generally known. It will be the constant aim of the Faculty to adopt, so far as practicable, the plan which it was so well and so usefully conducted by its enlightened and benevolent Founder.

Scott's Weekly Paper.

The Publishers of this large and popular Family Journal offers for the coming year, (1854) a combination of Literary attractions heretofore unattempted by any of the Philadelphia Weeklies. Among the new features will be a new and brilliant series of Original Romances by George Lippard, entitled 'Legends of the Last Century.' All who have read Mr. Lippard's celebrated 'Legends of the American Revolution' published for fifty consecutive weeks in the Saturday Courier, will find these pictures of French and American History endowed with all the power and brilliancy of his previous productions. The first of a series of Original Novellines, called 'Morris Hartley,' or the Knights of the Mystic Valley, by Harrison W. Ainsworth, is about to be commenced. It will be handsomely illustrated with 12 fine engravings, and its startling incidents cannot fail to elicit undivided praise. Emerson Bennett, the distinguished Novelist, the favorite of the West, and the author of some of the finest productions ever read, is also engaged to furnish a brilliant Novelline to follow the above. Mrs. Mary Andrews Denison, author of 'Home Pictures,' 'Patience Worthington' and her Grandmother, &c., will contribute a splendid Domestic Novelline, entitled the 'Old Ivy Grove,' and H. C. Watson an illustrated Story called the 'Two Edged Knife'—a graphic picture of Early Life in Old Kentucky. To these will be added Original Contributions and selections from Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz, Clara Clairville, Little Liberte, Grace Greenwood, and other distinguished writers; the news of the day, graphic editorials, full reports of the provision, money, and stock markets, letters from travelers at home and abroad, &c., &c.

THE BRITISH PERIODICALS.

AND THE FARMER'S GUIDE.

LEONARD SCOTT & CO.,

No. 51 Gold street, New York.

CONTINUE to publish the four leading British Quarterly Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine; in addition to which they have recently commenced the publication of a valuable Agricultural work, called

'FARMER'S GUIDE TO SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE.'

By HENRY STARKES, F. R. S., of Edinburgh, author of the 'Book of the Farm,' &c., &c.; assisted by JOHN P. NORRIS, M. A., New Haven, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, &c., &c.

This highly valuable work will comprise over 1400 pages, with 18 or 20 splendid steel engravings, and more than 600 engravings on wood, in the highest style of the art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best farmers, the best methods of plowing, planting, laying, harvesting, &c., &c., the various domestic animals in their highest perfection; in short the pictorial feature of the book is unique, and will render it of incalculable value to the student of Agriculture.

This work is being published in Semi-monthly Numbers, of 64 pages each, exclusive of the Steel engravings, and is sold at 25 cents each, or $5 for the entire work in numbers, of which there will be at least twenty-two.

The British Periodicals Re-published are as follows, viz:

The London Quarterly Review (Conservative),

The Edinburgh Review (Whig),

The North British Review (Free-Church),

The Westminster Review (Liberal), and Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory).

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as 'The Caxtons' and 'My New Novel,' (both by Bulwer), 'My Peninsular Medal,' 'The Green Hand,' and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, AFTER IT HAS BEEN ISSUED BY MESSRS. SCOTT & CO., so that subscribers to the reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the EARLIEST reading of these fascinating tales.

TERMS.

Per ann.

For any one of the four Reviews $3 00

or any two do 5 00

or any three do 6 00

For all four of the Reviews 8 00

Lebanon, Ky., May 5, 1852

ENVELOPES of every quality and price on hand and for sale, at the Printing Office.

CABINET MAKING.

THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully announce to the citizens of Lebanon and Marion county that he still continues to manufacture on the most reasonable terms and in the most workmanlike manner, all articles usually kept in establishments of the kind; such as:

Fine, Marble-top, and common Bureaus, Fine and common Bedsteads, all sizes, Spring Mattresses, Tables, large and small, &c., &c.

All of which he will sell on as reasonable terms as they can be bought for in any town in Kentucky. Thankful for past favors, I would solicit, and hope to deserve by punctuality to business, a continuance of the patronage hitherto extended to me.

1853 ELEVENTH YEAR OF THE LOUISVILLE WEEKLY COURIER.

Acknowledged by general consent to be the Largest, Best and Cheapest Newspaper in the West.

In issuing the Eleventh Prospectus of the Louisville Weekly Courier, we have great pleasure in announcing that Mr. Wm. D. Gallagher, Esq., has purchased an interest in the establishment, and he will hereafter be associated with us in its management. Mr. Gallagher is widely known as an able political and literary writer and a gentleman of cultivated taste, and being thoroughly Western in his education, habits and associations, and conversant with our Railroad and Manufacturing interests, we flatter ourselves that he will add largely to the value and interest of the Courier, and repeat still more acceptable to its thousands of readers in every section of the great Mississippi Valley.

The Louisville Weekly Courier, Edited and Published by

W. D. GALLAGHER & W. N. HALDEMAN.

Is one of the largest, handsomest and best papers in the Union, and for the quantity and quality of matter it contains and the great care taken in its preparation, it is beyond all question

The Cheapest Paper in the West!

As a NEWSPAPER, its character is well established. Our readers of many years will bear witness that for enterprise, energy and reliability, it has borne the palm from all its contemporaries in Kentucky. It is almost invariably ahead in the publication of important news. It procures news of interest from all quarters, both by telegraph and private express, up to the very moment of publication, and entirely regardless of expense.

As a Commercial Paper, the Courier stands without a rival in Louisville. The gentleman who has had charge of the Commercial Department for the last six years, and whose entire time is devoted to it, has no superior, and his reports may always be regarded as accurate and reliable.

As a Literary Paper, we intend that it shall hereafter occupy much higher ground than heretofore. The Tales and Novellines we publish will alone be worth ten times the price of the paper.

The Miscellaneous and Agricultural Departments will meet with all necessary attention. They will be both full and useful.

In Politics, the Courier will continue firmly Whig; but while advocating Whig measures and Whig principles, we do not intend to do so to the exclusion of our usual variety. Our readers may rest assured that they will not be surfeited with politics through our columns.

Early in January we will commence the publication of the Original Stories:

The Martyr of the Heart, by Miss MATTIE GRIFFITH; The Little Cripple and his Foster Mother, by ALICE STANLEY, a lady of Kentucky, whose literary productions have been greatly admired.

By adopting the Cash System, and strictly adhering to it, we are enabled to still further reduce the price of our paper, and will hereafter furnish it, large as it is, at the following Unprecedentedly low Rates.

One copy of the Weekly Courier,

one year - - - - - $1 50

Five copies - - - - - do - - - 5 00

Eleven copies do - - - do - - - 10 00

Twenty-two copies - - - do - - - 20 00

Postoffice Stamps will be received in payment of subscriptions.

No paper is sent from this office without being paid for in advance; and every subscription is discontinued at the expiration of the time paid for, unless previously renewed.

Post masters and others are authorized to act as agents in obtaining subscribers in Clubs or otherwise, and remitting funds. All orders should be addressed post paid to

W. N. HALDEMAN & CO.,

Courier Steam-Printing Establishment, Third street, near Main, Louisville Ky.,

Such of our county exchanges as copy the above or material part of it, will be entitled to the Daily Courier for one year.

Stationery.

I have a good supply of STATIONERY, on hand and for sale; such as:

FOOLSCAP AND LETTER PAPER, NOTE PAPER,

PLAIN AND FANCY ENVELOPES, STEEL PENS, &c., &c.

Another Scientific Wonder.

GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!

DR. J. S. HOUGHTON'S PEPSIN,

7 E TRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID,

OR GASTRIC JUICE!

Prepared from Rennet, or the Fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiologist and Chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

"I DIGEST." Such is the true meaning of the word PEPsin. It is the chief element, or great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming a true Digestive Fluid, precise like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is Nature's own Remedy for an unhealthy Stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It contains no Alcohol, Bitters, Acids, or Nauseous Drugs. It is extremely agreeable to the taste, and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without acute distress. Beware of Drugged Imitations. Pepsin is not a Drug.

Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water
